Give us your best answer!

1. What does Expedio Design mean to you?
2. Describe your understanding of what a multidisciplinary design consultancy does?
3. How would you respond to the following scenarios?
  - a. A client has given you only a week to come up with a design concept for their new product. List down the steps in the process of successfully completing this task.
  - b. You and the team have come up with a unique design concept and sincerely believe this to be an awesome game-changing idea. However, the client is known to be super-conservative and extremely resistant to new ideas. What would you do?
  - c. You have been working around the clock trying to complete a task for an extremely urgent deadline (that happens to be tomorrow morning). Your boss asks you to put that aside for a while to help him with something that is also very urgent. How would you respond?
